ROOM DECORATION POLICY

Furniture should not be placed in a manner that obstructs the door from opening. Items should not be affixed from the ceiling, nor should they be hung from pipes.

Empty alcoholic beverage containers are not permitted as decorations. Consult the Policies & Procedures to learn more information at:

https://housing.arizona.edu/life-on-campus/policies-procedures

We will decide on room decoration(s) by (discussing first, divide room up, etc)
COVID-19 POLICY UPDATES

Housing and Residential Life is working closely with University of Arizona leadership to monitor the situation and our planned response, should the need arise. Housing is also taking direction from UA Campus Health Services. In consultation with Campus Health Services, we have implemented elevated custodial/cleaning protocol as a preventative and precautionary measure. We will continue to use these elevated practices until further direction is given.

We continue to educate our residents and staff regarding taking basic proper precautions around health and safety, including handwashing, sanitizing, staying home when feeling sick, and avoiding others who may be sick. This includes display of digital signage in each dorm common space, as well as distributing preventative messaging in each resident bathroom, laundry room, and kitchen.

UPDAtED GUEST POLICY

Only students assigned to any given apartment or room are permitted in their assigned living space. No guests are permitted in resident rooms or apartments.

Staff may still need to enter these living spaces in performance of their job duties. University of Arizona students are permitted to visit a residence hall they are not assigned to so long as they are hosted by an assigned resident of that hall. Residents are permitted to host up to two (2) other University of Arizona students as guests. During their visit, guests must wear a face covering, must be escorted by their host at all times, and are only permitted in designated common areas or lounges and must abide by all posted regulations. Overnight guests are not permitted. Residents must inform their guests of the Policies & Procedures for Hall Living, and guests are expected to comply. Residents are responsible for the behavior of their guest(s), and therefore can be held accountable for their guest’s actions. If you have been asked to isolate or quarantine yourself due to COVID-19 concerns, you are not permitted to host any guests in the residence hall.

COMMUNICATION DURING PANDEMIC

At times, you or your roommate may be asked to support one another and be in communication regarding your health as well as privacy.

How will you ask for privacy?
Roommate #1: I will communicate I need privacy by: __________
Roommate #2: I will communicate I need privacy by: __________

I am willing to support my roommate by:
- Pick up food from my roommate
- Pick up food for my roommate
- Pick up personal items
- Do laundry for my roommate
- Communicate with RA
- Other: __________

If I am feeling sick or believe I have been exposed we will communicate this to one another…. (Discuss this together)

- Immediately
- Through text.
- Through phone call
- Through video call
- After I have been tested

We prefer extended phone/video calls to be taken: □ In the room □ Not in the room □ In the room with headphones

COVID-19 Face Coverings:
Cloth face coverings must be worn in hallways, common spaces, lounges, kitchens and when interacting with a Housing & Residential Life staff member. Bathrooms are exempt from this policy, however, we encourage wearing a cloth face covering whenever possible in the bathroom to help limit the spread of COVID-19.

COVID-19 Signs:
Maximum occupancy signs will be posted around the residence hall establishing a limit for the number of individuals who are permitted to be in common spaces at the same time. Signs stating behavioral expectations related to limiting the spread of COVID-19 will also be posted. Students must follow all expectations communicated in posted signs related to these behavioral expectations. Failure to follow these directives will result in disciplinary action. Guests who fail to follow these directives will be restricted from visiting any residence hall in the future.

Your voice is powerful! Allowing others, including parents/family members, to advocate for you in a conflict does not mean the conflict is resolved or over. You are your own best advocate in these situations. The best way to resolve conflict is by speaking face to face. We do NOT recommend the following means to resolve conflict: notes on white boards, social media, texts, through friends, etc.

Common Conflict Styles:
Everyone approaches conflict differently. It is helpful to know this about yourself and about others.

Competing: One party seeks to satisfy interest regardless of impact to other party.
Collaborating: Both parties work together to find a solution that makes both parties happy.
Compromising: Both parties work together to find a solution, but some aspects may have to be given up to make everyone happy.
Avoiding: One or both parties like to suppress the conflict and smooth things over by not fully addressing conflict.
Accommodating: One party yields to the other party in a conflict.

What is your conflict style (Circle below):
- Competing
- Collaborating
- Compromising
- Avoiding
- Accommodating

Given our conflict styles, we will address conflict in the following ways:

COMMUNICATION (Continued)

YOU DESERVE RESPECT

Policies and Procedures are established to assist in shaping the Residence Hall environment to protect your rights, and to define your responsibilities to others. You are expected to abide by local, state, and federal laws, the University’s Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy Procedures for Hall Living https://policy.arizona.edu/human-resources/nondiscrimination-and-anti-harassment-policy
